

AmAmakhosi - "Place of the Kings"

"The sanctuary of this luxurious lodge is proof of mans ability to balance his co-existence with nature." Mike Smith, Travelers Digest (2005)
Boasting 12 000 hectares- AmaZulu Private Game Reserve is set in the Savannah Biome with unique broad leaved mountain woodland, wetland and the Mkuze River - an ideal home to the big five as well as giraffe, warthog and hyena, not to mention over 15 different antelope species, hippopotamus and crocodile. With over 400 bird species this is a superb birders paradise.

In the midst of this haven for wildlife, Amakhosi is most surely a haven for mankind. A palace of African design, the lodge shares the solitude of nature and makes its silent presence on the banks of the Mkuze River - a place of paradise and comfort.

Amakhosi, with the most surreal Mkuze River frontage, offers attentive service and absolute luxury in dramatic Northern Zululand surroundings. Timeless trees on the banks of the Mkuze River shade the main lodge and regal River Suites for up to 12 guests. The suites boast separate air-conditioned bedrooms and lounge areas, en-suite bathrooms with unique baths made for two, each adorned with an array of candles and bath salts.
